

BUSINESS PORTRAIT MINI OR BRANDING

WHAT'S THE BEST FIT

---

BUSINESS PORTRAITS

You only need a couple of images.

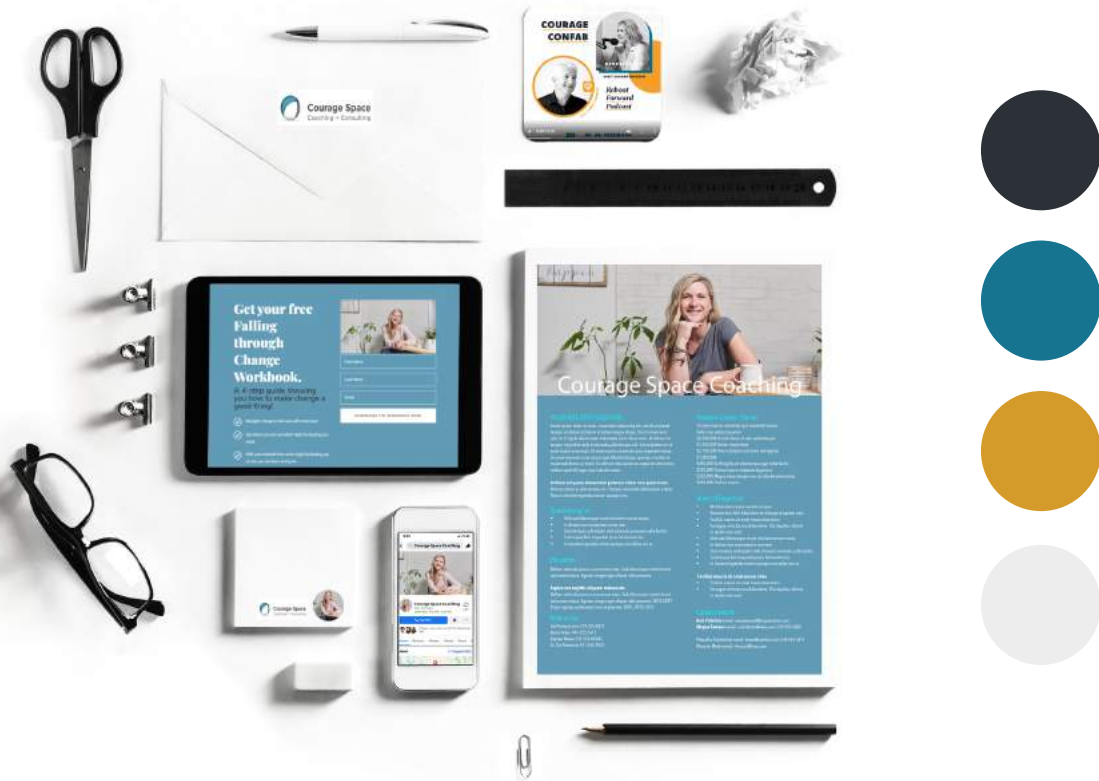

Great for small business owners just starting out.

If you're planning a career change or want a mixture of both professional and casual looks in a studio setting.

This is especially helpful if you work in an industry with a mix of corporate and casual clientele.

More traditional headshot composition and framing.

BRANDING SESSIONS

You're looking for a more well rounded overview of your business. You want images on multiple social media platforms that highlight specific services or special promotions.

Your services may target different client demographics and you want images that will cater to these needs.

You need a mixture of business portraits and images of you working in your business.

Images that will work across a suite of marketing material.

Lifestyle composition and framing, relaxed posing.
